

BioDelivery Sciences Announces BELBUCA® Patent Litigation Settlement Agreement with Teva

February 6, 2018

RALEIGH, N.C., Feb. 06, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- BioDelivery Sciences International, Inc. (NASDAQ:BDSI) today announced that it has entered into a Settlement Agreement with Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. and Teva Pharmaceuticals Industries, Ltd. (Teva) that resolves BDSI's previously reported BELBUCA® (buprenorphine) buccal film (CIII), patent litigation against Teva pending in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware.

"We are pleased to have resolved our BELBUCA lawsuit with Teva. We believe that this settlement, together with our previously announced settlement of the lawsuit with Teva regarding BUNAVAIL®, provide additional certainty around our patent portfolio and the future potential for our two commercialized products," said Scott Plesha, President of BioDelivery Sciences. "Importantly, settling these lawsuits allows us to avoid future litigation costs and thus preserve capital resources."

BDSI alleged in the lawsuits that the generic form of BELBUCA which Teva is seeking approval to market in the United States pursuant to three Abbreviated New Drug Application (ANDA) filings with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), infringed upon two U.S. patents owned by BDSI. As part of the settlement agreement, which is subject to review by the U.S. Federal Trade Commission and the U.S. Department of Justice, BDSI has entered into a non-exclusive license agreement with Teva that permits Teva to first begin selling its generic version of BELBUCA in the U.S. on January 23, 2027 or earlier under certain circumstances. Other terms of the agreement are confidential.
